

The Fidelity National Title Group Family of Companies is pleased to announce our Strategic Alliance with National Due Diligence Services, a Division of American Surveying & Mapping, Inc. With over 25 years of experience nationally, they are recognized as an industry leader in the ALTA Survey and Commercial Due Diligence field. This alliance, formed in 2009, has proven to be a valuable resource in meeting the needs of our commercial clients.

As part of this Strategic Alliance, National Due Diligence Services provides innovative products created exclusively for the Fidelity National Title Group. An independent and impartial service provider offers a convenient conduit to providing needed services for commercial real estate transactions. National Due Diligence Services is committed to providing exceptional customer service, while continuing to develop tools & processes to streamline the due diligence needs of their clients. Attached you will find brochures and information on their various products and value-added services.

We are pleased to have National Due Diligence Services as a service provider to the Fidelity National Title Group and our clients.
